

There is no means by which a merchant enlarges his trade which approaches advertising in effectiveness. When he advertises in the Evening Bulletin for example, he sends Thousands upon Thousands of Couriers Among the People to Proclaim His Goods. Thus he becomes known to a steadily enlarging public, and a steadily enlarging public means new customers and an increased trade.

The best way to inform patrons is for a merchant to display his goods in Bulletin columns

PEARL HARBOR BILL PASSED

MINISTERS TALK ABOUT IWILEI

That President Pinkham of the Board of Health has stated to the Ministerial Union that he had reports from over a hundred of the denizens of Iwilei, and that he had taken his action in regard to the medical inspection of such persons as being in his opinion for the best interest of the public health, was decided at length. It was pointed out that the fact that he had made such an admission was a matter of importance, as Pinkham had stated publicly that there had been no co-operation in this matter.

The meeting this morning was very largely attended, among those present being Rev. Dr. Crane, who presided, Secretary Frank Scudder, Rev. D. W. Thwing, Theo. Richards, Doremus Scudder, Senator Dickey, Dr. Bingham, Rev. Dr. Gulick, Rev. Mr. Olson, Mr. Super, Rev. Mr. Rath, Dr. Hand, Rev. Mr. Soares, Rev. Mr. Motokawa, and many others.

Theo. Richards opened the meeting with prayer. He then wanted to know whether the press, indicating a Bulletin representative who was present, had been invited, and whether it was policy to admit the press to the meetings of the Union.

Thwing stated that there was no reason for secrecy, and moved that the press be invited to attend the meeting.

John Martin put in his oar with the statement that the press had been excluded at a former meeting, and there seemed to be no reason why it should be allowed to attend one meeting and be excluded at another.

Dr. Crane stated that the reporter had been allowed by him to attend pending action by the meeting, and Thwing stated that it would be to the interest of the public welfare to have the proceedings made public. A motion to admit the press then carried.

The secretary reported that he had a reply to his letter to Delegate Kanihale asking that he assist in the action taken to prevent the Territory's being exempted from the operation of the Edmunds Act. The Delegate wrote that he had sent the petitions submitted to him to the

"Can't Shoot Hyenas," Says Pinkham

"If you are driving through the country and a pack of hyenas gets after you, and the law of the country will not allow you to carry a revolver and shoot, there is only one thing to do; you must let the hyenas howl. That's what I am doing. I am letting the pack of hyenas that is after me howl."

The remark was made by President Pinkham of the Board of Health this morning when he was asked if he had anything to say in reference to the attack made upon him by Jack Atkinson and the Advertiser.

"The Chinese used to fight with stink-pots," said Pinkham, "but I can't afford to do that. I might overturn one of their stink-pots and get myself smeared and daubed up. So

CONSUL SAITO ON PINKHAM TROUBLE

Says Board Can Do Its Own Work If It Likes

"I don't understand why Mr. Pinkham is howling so much about the reports of the Japanese birth," said Japanese Consul General Saito last Saturday.

"In the first place, it was he who requested me to furnish the Board of Health with birth reports of the Japanese resident in the islands. I have done so without compensation and without reward. As a government official, I deemed it best to cooperate with and assist President Pinkham of the Board of Health in securing reports of the Japanese subjects. Under the Japanese law the Japanese are requested to report their births. Under the Territorial law, I understand that everyone is required to report births within thirty days after birth. I am not obliged nor am I compelled to furnish birth reports to the Board of Health. It is up to the officials of the Board of Health to see that births are reported. The President of that Board could send out some one to ascertain how many births have taken place at different places. I understand that Mr. Pinkham has been made to believe that I have instructed the Japanese not to report their births to the Board, but only to the Consulate here. If such is the case, then there is no truth in it. I have never caused to be published such notifications in the Japanese newspapers."

"I am not looking for any controversy between the local and the Japanese governments. I wish to say that peace should prevail among the officials of these two governments. If Mr. Pinkham wishes to keep on howling so much about Japanese births, then I am willing to keep still and do

Kapaa Land Goes High

Chun Kog, a dark horse, got away with this piece of Kapaa rice lands this noon, outbidding those who thought they had it all framed up to get the lease at a low rental. Chun backed them out with his final bid of $3035 rental per year for the lease of land, the upset rental of which was only $1235.

The sale of the Kapaa leases was the most exciting that has taken place at the Judiciary building for a long time. It was thought that there would be only two bidders, the present occupants of the land, Wong Fat and Hee Fat. But two new bidders jumped in and made things interesting.

There was no contest on the first two pieces offered. Lot No. 3, comprising 19 acres of rice land, 2 of kula and 438 of waste, was bid in by R. W. Breckons, agent for Wong Fat, at $326, one dollar more than the upset price. Lot No. 1, containing 123 acres of rice land, 11 of kula and 6 1/2 of waste, was bid in by Breckons, acting for Hee Fat, for $2992, also a dollar raise over the upset.

The bidding started when Lot 3 was offered. It commenced with $1340, a five dollar advance over the upset rental. One of the regulars immediately jumped this a ten-spot. At this juncture a dark horse butted in. Wong Gow offered $1375.

Immediately there was consternation. Wong Fat and Hee Fat and their agents rushed about and got their heads together and tried to figure out where the cyclone had come from. Then they wanted to know who was to get mills and machinery if a non-occupant should be the successful bidder. Pratt said that the mill would go with the land, but the sale would not carry the machinery if it did not belong to the Government.

Bidding was resumed with an offer by one of the regulars of $1380. Fourteen hundred, came back the outsider. Fourteen hundred and five—$1500—$1600—$1650—$1670—90, the bids ran, then jumped to $1800—$1900. One of the bidders commenced piking with one dollar bids, his opponent going over him by ten dollar jumps for a while, then raising him a dollar at a time. Albert Judd, representing Chung Sui, another dark horse, jumped in at $1955 and followed along a dollar at a time to $2000, when one of the Chinese got desperate and bid $2100. Two thousand two hundred was the next—$2201—$2300—then along one to fifty dollars at a crack. Wong Gow bid $2700 but was getting nervous, but he was game up to $3000, when he decided he had

EPPINGER SAYS MONEY WAS TIGHT

Tourist Trade Harmed By After-Effects Of Panic

"I can readily see the reason why there have been so few tourists come to Honolulu this year," said H. L. Eppinger, who arrived here this morning on the Nippon Maru. Mr. Eppinger is the son of the manager of the Grand Hotel in Yokohama and he is on his way to that place now, where he will finish up some business for his father. The latter passed through here a short time ago on his way to the Orient.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the newspapers have been full of accounts of how the money market has loosened up on the Coast, it is only within the last few months that things have gotten back on their old basis, or anywhere near it. Money has been tight. That is the sum and substance of it. A financial panic such as the country has just emerged from cannot but leave its mark for a long, long time. And the mark is still deeply indented and can be easily felt still in every line of business on the Coast, though things are now rapidly righting themselves."

"San Francisco is booming. There is no doubt whatever that she will become the greatest city, as she always has been, on the Pacific Coast. Seattle is a good town, there is no denying, but San Francisco has every natural advantage. I will be back here in a short time, and will probably stop over for several weeks."

Among other prominent people aboard the Nippon Maru are Augustus Jay, who is secretary to the American Legation at Nagasaki, J. A. Britton and A. T. Eastland, capitalists, and John B. Ross, a banker from Tennessee.

Through the medium of the Merchants' Exchange, Davies & Co. have received notice that the fine big ship Canarals of the Chargeurs Reunis line, which was bound for this port, has been wrecked off the coast of Spain. The local agents have as yet received no official notice of the disaster from the head office, but it is believed that the news is correct. Very little is known about the vessel here. She was a big ship, her displacement being 6700 tons, her length 157 metres, and her width 12.85 metres. How much freight or what she was carrying has not been learned at the local office yet.

HARBOR, $2,700,000

GOVERNOR FREAR, HONOLULU. PEARL HARBOR, $2,700,000, PASSED HOUSE. THIS INSURES ENACTMENT.

This means that the special appropriation bill for Pearl Harbor development and construction of a dry dock has advanced the first successful step. It now comes before the Senate, whose leader for the Committee on Naval Affairs, Senator Hale, is known to be favorable.

SAY IT IS SIX MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—The House today passed the bill appropriating $6,500,000 for a naval station at Pearl Harbor.

It seems possible that an error was made in the Associated Press figures for the Pearl Harbor appropriation. The figure named some days ago was $650,000, that sum being made immediately available and the remainder being what is known as a "continuing appropriation, certain to be included in later appropriation bills till the work is complete."

RESIDENCE CLAUSE PROVES WORTHLESS

Supreme Court Decides That Judge Hapai Gets His Land

Judge G. W. A. Hapai gets his land. The Supreme Court, in an opinion handed down this morning in the matter of G. W. A. Hapai versus James W. Pratt, Commissioner of Public Lands, affirmed the decree of the lower court, which created such a sensation in official circles, and decided that Hapai is entitled to a patent on the ground that he has complied with the residence requirements. The syllabus of the opinion reads:

"Public lands; right to patent by lessee of right of purchase lease.—A lessee under a right of purchase lease of public lands who applies for a patent satisfies the statutory prerequisite.

Jonah Kuhio has revoked the power of attorney held by his brother, David K. Kawanakoa, to vote his shares of the Kapolani Estate and transact all his business as a shareholder, "for good causes and valuable considerations," and has transferred the power of attorney to W. A. Kinney. The revocation and the transfer were filed with the Registrar of Conveyances this morning.

In regard to the above matter, W. A. Kinney states that the change is entirely of a friendly nature and is really made at the request of Prince David. It frequently happens, that there are business dealings between the brothers, and in such cases David can hardly act for both parties. Cupid being away so much, it was thought better to make another arrangement which would permit of such transactions taking place without delay.
